

AVIATION POETRY EVENING

AT WHITE WALTHAM AIRFIELD

The Joystick Club and Vintage Aircraft Club present a second evening of aviation poetry and music

Thursday 3rd November at 7.30pm

Presented by Steve Slater - readers including Richie Piper, Anne Hughes and Martin Barraclough.

Featuring readings from “Letters to a Wounded Airman” WW1 letters to 2nd Lt Hervey Rhodes read by Adam Sutcliffe, Gerry Zierler and John Dansey

Poetry from WW1 to the present day, including poems celebrating the women pilots of the Air Transport Auxiliary.

An “open-mic” opportunity for guests to read their own choice of aviation poetry at the end of the evening

Musical items with thanks to Keith Old

Bar opens at 6pm for meals. All are welcome. Come and share another very special poetry evening with us at White Waltham

PHOTO “AN EVENING’S BIMBLE” STEVE SLATER